PRESIDENT'S MEMO

The main objective of the WCF is to increase our membership while still maintaining our financial stability. We feel the best way to do this is through increased service to you, the players of the Northwest. Hopefully, better service will mean more members.

Membership and service are interdependent. All our attempts to upgrade service would be financially disastrous unless a corresponding increase in membership occurred. On the other hand there would be no increase in membership if we didn't increase our service. So you can easily see our problem. What amount and quality of service is required to increase our membership to a given level.

There is no readily attainable answer to the question above. Consequently, many new ideas will be tried and many discarded before any growth is realized. There is nothing wrong with this ... if we have plenty of ideas! Therefore, be patient with us. We are trying hard.

Presently, as you have no doubt noticed, most of our efforts toward increased service have been directed to the NORTHWEST CHESS LETTER. The editor, Dick Parsons, has been doing a tremendous job. New features have been added, old features improved, and contributors flushed out of the woods. But we still ask for more suggestions, criticisms, and contributors!

SOME REMINDERS:

Don't forget our 3 for 1 membership offer, nor September 1st. There is still a little time left to renew your subscription for $2.00 a year before the price goes up. Why not play in a chess tournament, join your local club, or enter the NW Postal Championship this month?

PUBLICATION DEADLINES!

The August issue will be accepting items for publication not later than.....

JULY 23!!

Your cooperation in this deadline has been most encouraging thus far, thanks!

You will notice another cover by Mrs P and this one even is associated with the game! She is learning all the time!!

It will be a five round swiss affair with Harkness pairings and Solkoff - Median tie breaking.

There will be a Championship and a reserve section. USCF members only in the championship section with the reserve section being limited to those having a rating of 1799 or less.

First Prize - $100 plus trophy guaranteed by Ashland C.C.

Second " - some cash plus trophy

Third " - some cash plus trophy

Reserve Section

First Prize - trophy only

Second " - trophy only

Third " - trophy only

Best Junior - trophy

All trophies have been donated by local merchants and this leaves all $$$ from entry fees for prizes!

Time Limit: 50 moves in two hours the first day to get through in time for those that care to, to attend the Shakespearean plays. For the second day the time limit will be 40 moves in two hours and 20 each hour thereafter. Several upset prizes have been donated.

Entry Fee: $5.00 for championship section and $3.50 for juniors.

In reserve section will be $3.50 and $2.00 for juniors. (under 18) The Ashland Club will handle the hotel and motel reservations, if the players care to have us do so, the same as last year. This is a busy season at the Shakespeare Theatre and motel reservations will be hard to get the day of the tournament, so if you plan to come and can, please let us know so that we can get something for you. Some of the motels have given rate deductions for chess players and family.

We have reserved 30 seats a night at the Shakespearean plays for the use of the chess players at $2.00 each, however, it will be necessary for us to know about reservations on these before August 1.

Firday	August 20	Macbeth
Sat.	21	Winter's Tale

CHESS MASTER TO VISIT ASHLAND

William Addison, 6th ranked U.S. Chess Master, will visit Ashland, July 18 for a simultaneous exhibition that will be held in Lithia Park, at 2 P.M. Mr. Addison is one of the foremost chess teachers in the U.S. and was youth director at the Piatagorsky Foundation in Los Angeles.

He was the best performer on the 1964 U.S. Olympic Team, scoring 87%, and at 30 is the new director of the Mechanics Institute Chess Room, the oldest chess room in the U.S.

TOURNAMENT NORTHWEST

BUZ EDDY

One of the topics to be brought up at a forthcoming officer's meeting of the WCF will be that of requiring 100% WCF membership in northwest tournaments.

TOURNAMENT NORTHWEST does not yet have a formal position on this question, but will consider several aspects.

Those in favor of requiring WCF membership point out that: 1) those participating in an organized chess event should be informed of the result of that event, and also should be informed of ways in which they might avail themselves of further organized chess activity. 2) the WCF provides a service in organizing northwest chess, and those utilizing and benefitting from that service are obligated to support the organization.

The negative argues that: 1) a large initial outlay for those beginning in organized chess might prove discouraging, especially since chess has an appeal for those whose financial sources are tightly limited. (ie - juniors, college students) 2) Mandatory membership is ethically objectionable. 3) If this policy were to be implemented by the federation, there would be sponsors would decide that this policy could be detrimental to their proposed event. Therefore deciding to neither require membership nor to avail themselves of the services of the organization. This therefore, would lead to a weakening of the organization of northwest chess.

Before proceeding with these arguments, let us first look at the services provided by the WCF.

1) When requested the WCF will provide a director for any northwest event.

2) The WCF will, through its publication, provide publicity up to three issues in advance of an event.

3) The WCF will provide a report of the completed event.

4) The WCF will provide rating results of the competition.

5) The WCF will attempt to prevent conflicting dates through advanced scheduling.

Now let us look at some of the counter-arguments presented.

Those opposed to the idea of required membership point out that although it may be desirable for participants in organized chess events to be informed of future events, this should be the result of promotional effort, rather than sheer compulsion. They also feel that if the services provided by the federation serve a useful purpose, then support for these services will be necessarily forthcoming, without the mandatory requirement.

The affirmative continues by pointing out that the initial outlay including membership is not significantly different than accepting an entry fee then expecting a voluntary membership in the near future. They feel also that mandatory membership is necessary, because of the small percentage that attempt a "free-ride". Finally, they argue, that although mandatory membership may be objectionable ethically, it has become part of our way of life. That is, that every national and most local organizations utilize this practice to some degree.

As we mentioned TNW does not yet have a formal stand on this question. We would appreciate hearing views that our readers might have to offer.

MACSKASY & SUTTLES CONQUER 1965 B.C. OPEN

DR. ELOD MACSKASY, of Vancouver, and DUNCAN SUTTLES, giving his home as Reno, Nev. each posted a $4\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ score in the British Columbia Open to tie for first place. Macskasy edged Suttles on tie-breaking.

A total of 48 players turned out for the event, making this easily the largest tournament so far in 1965.

The five round event was played at The Academy of Arts present home of the Vancouver City Chess Club.

Macskasy won his first four games against ERIC BAMME, of New Westminister, BC; JOSEPH KALTENECKER, of Vancouver; (A long difficult game, adjourned and played out after the third round.) JIM CAMPBELL, of Seattle, JAMES McCORMICK, of Seattle, then drew his last round encounter with co-winner Suttles.

Suttles bested ARNIDS ZARINS, of Vancouver, Brian Potter, of Vancouver, COLIN AYKROYD, of Vancouver, (in 16 moves), and O. RASMUSSEN, of Victoria, before his draw with Macskasy.

James McCormick finished a clear third with 4 - 1, losing only to first place finisher Macskasy.

Colin Aykroyd posted a $3\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$ to take a clear fourth. Aykroyd lost to Suttles and yielded a final round draw to DENNY JENQUIN, of Portland.

It might be noted that the top four finishers were rated 1-2-3-4 going into the tournament. Fifth rated GREG KERN, of Portland, threw in the towel after a devastating first day.

JOSH SHIN, of New Westminister, posted a $4\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ to win the "B" section, yielding only a third round draw to M. KINDRET, of Burnaby. ROBERT LUNDIN, of Issaquah, and LYMAN JOHNSTON, now of Tacoma, tied for second spot with a 4 - 1 record. Lundin edged Johnston on tie-breaking.

Time-control for the event was 45 in two, and although there were the usual time-pressure scrambles this was not a decisive factor except in the final round Lundin-Syrnick game. In this game Syrnick permitted his flag to fall after 68 moves in what appeared to be easily drawn position. He later informed the TD that he had assumed secondary time-control to be another 45 in two rather than 25 per.

When this tournament was initiated a year ago, it was to be a substitute for the dwindling annual international match. So let's look at this year's Canada vs USA results. In the "A" section 20 games were played between American and Canadian opponents. Here the Canadians won 9, lost 6, and drew 6. The USA fared somewhat better in the 35 games of the "B" section winning 16, drawing two, and losing 17.
Total:

Canada - $29\frac{1}{2}$ USA - $25\frac{1}{2}$

Much of the conversation around the tournament room was concerned with the coming Canadian Closed. A two week event starting June 21st, in which the elite of Canadian chess will gather to decide the national championship, and Canada's representative to the interzonal. We hope to have a full report for you in the next issue.

Tournament director for the event was Buz Eddy, who filled in for the regular B.C. TD, Roy Gates who is currently in Los Angeles, Cal.

Notable upsets in the event were; Denny Jenquin over Greg Kern in the second round, Dave Fulton over Jenquin in the 1st round, (adjourned and played out after the third round), and Lou Fesl's third round win from Kern.

TOURNAMENT NORTHWEST extends its congratulations to the Vancouver City Chess Club and the British Columbia Chess Federation for a very fine chess event. The catering and the fine playing conditions were among the best we have found in the northwest.

TNW would like to see a revival of the International Washington vs. British Columbia match. The date of July 25th seems to be open on the tournament schedule, so we will try and promote a match for this date. We will have something definite by next issue.

McCORMICK WINS

EVERGREEN EMPIRE - OPEN

51 players appeared for the 1965 EVERGREEN EMPIRE OPEN, making this the largest event this year.

JAMES McCORMICK, of Seattle, won the tournament with a $5\frac{1}{2}-\frac{1}{2}$ score. Returning to his winning ways after some recent reversals, McCormick posted wins over JOHN PERICICH, of Tacoma, FRED SCHMIDT, of Camas, JERRY WOLFE, of Troutdale, Ore., KENT PULLEN, of Seattle, and yielded a final round draw to BRUCE ALBERSTON, of Ft. Lewis.

Second place money was shared by Kent Pullen and VIKTORS PUPOLS, both of Seattle. Pullen, who has been "training" under Pupols at the Eigerwand (a Seattle coffeehouse) clobbered his instructor in the 4th round to take the upset money for that round, ($2) and eventually wound up ahead on tie-breaking to take second place.

Upset prizes were awarded in the USCF section only, and went to MIKE SCHEMM, of Corvallis, Ore. (over DEANE MOORE); John Pericich, of Tacoma, (over MILTON COLFRON and LIEF KARELL); Kent Pullen (over Pupols) and BILL WEBER, of Tacoma, (over ERNEST PRENTICE and RON JARMON, both of Tacoma).

LYMAN JOHNSTON, now of Tacoma, carried away the first place trophy in the "B" section with a 5 - 1 score.

HAROLD RAYMOND, of Bellingham, and WENDELL LITKE, of Tacoma, each posted a $4\frac{1}{2}-1\frac{1}{2}$ score to tie for second spot. Raymond took the second place trophy on tie-breaking, and Litke carried home the class "C" hardware.

The tournament was conducted in the spacious Fircrest fieldhouse, and was sponsored by the Tacoma Chess Club. Time control was 45 moves in two hours.

Among the newcomers to northwest chess circles at this event was CHUCK KNAPP, nephew of veteran EARL KNAPP. Chuck is eight years old, and although he failed to post an over the board win in this event he did show promise of a successful future in the world of tournament chess. He not only complained of the pairings, particularly his fourth round bye; "I came to play chess, but also attempted to "swindle" the TD out of the prize fund. McCormick beware.

Tournament director for the event was Buz Eddy. Credit JOHN WARD for fine promotion.

SCHEMM DEFEATS CLEVELAND

A ten game match was played between Mr. Michael A. Schemm and Mr. John Cleveland between April 20th and May 18th. Winner of the match was Schemm winning games 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, and 8 drawing rounds 3 and 9., for a total of 7-3. The match was held after the Interstate Open and the players wish it to be rated after this event. Your Ed. has been told that an Oregon player has the results of this tournament and will send them in so a cross table can be made up for rating purposes.

OREGON H.S. CHESS LEAGUE

by Schemm

There has been a league for 6 or 7 years now, but it was not until the last two yrs that we had a State Championship. The center of Oregon H.S. chess has been the Willamette Valley Chess League. This is divided into a northern and a southern division. The northern, in which Corvallis is included, consists of Corvallis, South Salem, North Salem, Albany, Lebanon, Scio, Harrisburg, and Central Linn. The Southern division consists of South Eugene, N. Eugene, Springfield, Thurston and Cottage Grove. Every H.S. has a five man team and plays every other school twice during the season. Year before last the top team of each division played for the state championship. Corvallis took the first state championship 10½ to 4½. Last year, however, the procedure was changed and all the other H.S. in the state were invited to attend, and the first four to answer were accepted. As it was, I believe only four other schools were able to send teams, so no one was left out. Also, the top teams from each division played. Then as you know from the story Jerry Weikel sent in, Corvallis came in second to Albany. Actually, we were never actually defeated by Albany. In league play we defeated them 3½-1½, and drew 2½-2½. In the state championship we also drew 2½-2½, but we were using a tie-breaking system which allowed them to become the winners. I hope that you will excuse my obvious favoritism for Corvallis in this letter. Michael A. Schemm .

BLACKMORE WRITES

I would like to include two items from the 1965 British Columbia Open; a mediocre game and some comments on the Sut-
tles vs Aykroyd game, or at least its opening.

I came during the start of the second round of the BC Open as a visitor , but there was an odd number in the "B"
section, so Buz convinced me to enter
with a first round forfeit. My other loss came in the last round at the hands of a Vancouver high school player, Martin Johnson. I couldn't resist putting in a few comments of my own in the game.

year on 11.PxP, and claimed that this was the refutation to 9. ...P-KR3. Perhaps I should have listened to him!

11. . . QNxP
Forced, otherwise Black loses his KP. (e.g. 11..PxP 12.B-Q5 and B-N2 13.NxP). 12.B-KB4 N-N3 12...B-N2; loses a pawn after White replies BxN! instead of NxN which would only swap to the advantage of Black.

13.B-R2 B-N2
14.QN-Q2 B-KB1
15.B-B2 P-Q4?
Surprisingly, when White's pawn advances it becomes stronger. 16.P-K5! N-R2

For if N-Q2, P-K6 accentuates the weakness on N3.

17.BxN PxB
18.Q-B2 P-N4
I had originally planned R-K3, but after, 19.N-Q4, R-N3 20.P-K6, Black would be hopelessly weak on the K-side.

19.Q-N6 B-B4
20.N-N3 N-B1
21.Q-B5 B-N3
22.P-QR4 P-B3?

PxP RxP Q-Q2 takes the sting out of W's attack and after B plays P-B4 his end-game possibilities aren't all that bad with the Bishop pair.

23.PxP RPxP
24.RxR QxR?

After BxR, I doubt that White might still have enough to be effective. However, after QxR Black has lost the game and Bs remaining moves are just desperation.

25.P-K6! N-R2

Earlier in the game I thought that this would nullify the attack, or render it ineffective. The trouble is that the attack is easier to conduct than the defense.

26.Q-B7ch K-R1
27.B-K5 R-KN1
28.P-K7 Q-K1
29.BxPch Resigns
The move I hadn't seen when making my 24th.

DUNCAN SUTTLES

The style of Duncan Suttle's play has served to arouse much curiosity and appeal among the local patrons. Game after game, he consistently demonstrates his sharp, piquant tactics. Undoubtedly, the principle reason he lands his opponents into such positions is the "mixer" type openings he plays. He showed us numerous characteristic games that he has played in his recent tournaments (that he keeps recorded on scraps of paper stuffed in his pockets) that demonstrate time and again the confusion suffered by his antagonists (by no means fish) against his slashing intermezzo of piece play.

I managed to shuffle over and look at the Suttles-Aykroyd game in the third round of the BC Open. There were a number of other young players inquisitively peeking also, as the Breyer Gambit against an open player like Aykroyd promised something unusual.

After the game had concluded, and Duncan was discussing the game for McCormick, he said that he was attracted by a move in the Breyer Gambit that was supposedly bad according to MCO 9, but their refutation was hardly convincing. He tried the line with Aykroyd, who played along according to MCO 9, but apparently, as the game demonstrated it wasn't quite a satisfactory refutation. Later, Sunday evening, however, I looked at the line again, and it seems that Black did indeed have the better game if he would have played instead, 6...Q-K2ch; (see p.17 June NW CHESS LETTER for game, ed.) Suttles claims the line as his own (the one played in the game). His claim is probably good, too, for I can't find anyone else who claims it, (or who has even played it.) I guess we have now the Suttle's Gambit to be distinguished from the Suttle's Defense (formerly known as the Robatsch) (and who is Breyer?).

Perhaps it is known in Russia as the Leningrad Gambit, everything else is.

1.P-K4 P-K4 2.P-KB4 PxP 3.Q-B3 (Breyer G) N-QB3! 4.N-K2 P-Q4 the move given by MCO as the refutation to White's last. The trouble is that they stop there. White was supposed to play 4.P-B3 to support the center, stop Black's knight passage to N5, and to stop his own Knight's passage to QB3. However, Suttles makes the remarkable discovery that his QR will play a minor role in the attack on Black's King anyway, and if it gets one of Black's Knights out of play, it might be worth the sacrifice. So, Duncan continues 5.PxP N-N5 6.NxP (a little more aggressive than N-R3). Here, Aykroyd continued NxPch 7.K-Q1 NxR 8.B-N5ch B-Q2 9.R-K1ch and the game was soon over. However, by first employing the "in-between" move of 6...Q-K2ch (when I first asked about the move Mr. Aykroyd immediately replied that it was a "Fish move" without looking it over) Black certainly gets a better game than he does with Collin's remedy.

After 6...Q-K2ch; if White moves his King to one of the two squares available, in order to free his KR for staving purposes on the K-file, a little aggressive piece play on the part of Black seems to do the trick. e.g. K-B2 actually loses after Q-B4ch. K-Q1 leads to wild play after 7...N-KB3! 8.B-N5ch P-B3 9.PxP (R-K1 dosen't work) PxP 10. BxPch K-Q1! 11.P-KR3 (forced) Q-B2 12.B-R4 B-N2 followed by B-K3 and Black has plenty of lead in development along with White's fixed King position to compensate for the two sacked pawns. However, after 7.K-Q1 (after Q-K2ch) Q-B4 8.N-B3 N-KB3 9.B-N5ch. K-Q1 followed by 10...B-Q3, and as far as I am concerned, Black has much the better of it. Yet, if White does not move his King, he cannot adequately handle the threat of NXPch!

Suttle's move of 6...N-KB3 seems to be hopelessly inadequate in many variations after B-N5ch. (According to what it said in the NWCL, although I never heard him suggest that move myself.)

William Blackmore
USCF Regional Director

In Bellingham news, Harold Raymond looks like the probable winner of the Bellingham Championship, soon to be completed.

Blackmore and Hashisaki are presently playing a six game match to be rated at the conclusion for both WCF and USCF.

Recently seven juniors engaged in a private speed tournament:

Bruce McLeod	X 0 1 1/2 1 1 1	4 1/2-1 1/2
William Blackmore	1 X 0 0 1 1 1	4-2
Woody Watrous	0 1 X 0 1 1 1	4-2
Jack Benedict	1/2 1 1 X 0 0 1	3 1/2-2 1/2
Hugh Gregory	0 0 0 1 X 1 1	3-3
Wayne Chin	0 0 0 1 0 X 1	2-4
Brian Wilke	0 0 0 0 0 0 X	0-6

Blackmore pulled out to a quick 4-0 lead, but faltered as McLeod and Watrous came back from minus scores.

Western Washington College wants to enter a team in the PSL this fall, but may have to decline if the Bellingham Club will have to draw on Western players to make up its team. Western has already entered the Collegiate league for this year.

SEATTLE CHESS CLUB SPRING TOURNAMENT

John Garrott swept to a surprising 5 - 0 victory in the Seattle Chess Club - Spring Tournament. In the fourth round he upset top rated Norm Abrahamson in a brilliant game. In the tournament, upsets were the rule as two class "A" players rated one and two were both badly beaten finishing third and sixth. The tournament, although being small, was a big success among the players. The club will soon have another similar tournament.

I would also like to announce an item of great importance to local players. The Seattle Chess Club has moved to a new location. We are now located at 766 Thomas Street near the corner of Thomas and Dexter. The new place is a complete house, we have enough room to easily handle 50 players and as an added convenience we have our own phone (the number is MA 2-3332 in case anyone wants to know). We feel the club should become more popular because of the move. No longer will there be the problem of parking or finding the place, and if one wants to call up some friends to come down a phone is available. Among the other advantages is our centralized location, we are near places to eat, one can catch the bus on the corner, the heart of the city is right there. We hope to see more people at the club.

Almost every Friday night we have speed and five minute tournaments with cash prizes. An electric range provides coffee for refreshment, we hope to see you all down at the club Friday nights!!!

NORTHWEST CHESSBOARD

THE HIGH SCHOOL CHESS PLANT

High school chess blossoms, then dies like a perennial flower in the northwest garden of chess. Its flower is beautiful but when it dies it becomes ugly. The northwest chess garden needs the fruit this plant provides, and if it dies there is no fruit. To grow strong and to improve, the garden requires a large amount of this fruit. Over the past eight years the garden has grown 100%. This means that twice the number of fruit is needed to keep improvement and strength in the garden.

Within the last eight years more plants (and stronger ones also) have appeared to keep strength and improvement possible. However, a few plants (Seattle and Portland) are not providing the usual number of fruit for the garden. Thus to keep strong and to improve, the garden needs more fruit and if these areas are not producing up to par then something must be done.

The solution, I feel, is to make the environment agreeable to this needed plant so it can grow and blossom and provide the fruit the garden needs. We must fertilize the areas. We must provide more water and sunlight. Then the plants will grow and provide the fruit the garden needs.

But the questions arise: What is the fertilizer? And how is it applied? And there is no sure answer to this question because in our garden this problem has not risen before.

However, as a recent high school graduate I may be able to add my experience and ideas. In most schools the students do not know the WCF, NWCL, USCF, and local clubs and players and tournaments. Why not bring all this information to them? With one issue of the NWCL the high school player and club could easily discover the northwest world of chess. Especially high school teams, leagues, and matches. Also a high school column could be added. Exhibitions like Pupols gave at the University of Washington could be given at the high schools. I am sure this would create interest. Interest is higher than ever seen.

What I am specifically proposing is an October issue devoted (besides the usual news) to high school chess. Then this issue would be sent free to all the high schools that seem feasible. It would include all the high school news that seems necessary, such as a list of known high school clubs and advisors, of leagues, and lists of books, magazines, clubs and tournaments. News and history of the State High School Championship and history of the various high school areas could be written. The NWCL, WCF, USCF, FIDE, etc. could be explained.

Then we could invite their club to subscribe to the NWCL, (for a reduced rate?). And invite the students to join the WCF and play in tournaments. Also invite them to send in articles for the high school column.

Interest and membership would increase along with tournament participation and the level of strength of the royal game. From this humble start bigger and better things are possible - Fischer for exhibitions, the US Open! Who knows?

Ode To A Chess Problem Solver

He sat looking at the board.
With his hands in his pocket.
He looked up with hope that soared
He shot up, like a rocket
Into the thin atmosphere.
"I've got it, I have got it!"
He screamed and he yelled with cheer.
As he came back to his wit,
He noticed that it worked not.
His mind filled with remorse.
He struggled, toiled, and fought
To find the correct course.
Promptly he saw a light,
Promptly he heard a ring,
Like Franklin and his kite.
Hard work conquers anything!

Notes.... Thumbing through an old Chess Review, I noticed an article about Reshevsky winning the US Championship. A Chess Review reporter was interviewing him, when Sammy wanted to illustrate a game. The reporter was forced to use his pocket set because Sam Reshevsky did not own a single chess set!!

NW POSTAL #100

GHESS SOLITAIRE

by Mal Skarsten ~

One way in which you can engage in this pastime is to play over the games of some master, keep a record of your wins and losses, then play the games over to discover whether you have improved.

Suppose you have decided to play the games of Nimzovich in Hypermodern Chess, by Fred Reinfeld. You start with Game #1. In this game there are 65 moves. You play, say, the first three moves. You cover up the remaining 62 moves. Then you decide what might have been Nimzovich's fourth move. If you decide correctly, put an X opposite that move in the book. If you decided incorrectly, put a 1 opposite the move. And so on for the remaining 61 moves. When you have finished, add up your correct and incorrect choices, and record, with date of play, thus: 6-15-65, 30/62, assuming, in this case, that you made 30 correct choices. Do this for all the games in the book. Record each win, draw, and loss. If, when you have finished with all the games you have won 40, lost 16, and drawn 2, your score might look like this:

W ### ##

After you have finished with all of the games, go back and play them again, as before. If you have more wins the second time than the first, presumably you have improved.

I have now almost finished playing these fifty eight games over three times. My score stands thus:

(1) W 30 L 25 D 3

(2) W 37 L 20 D 2

(3) W 40 L 7 D 3

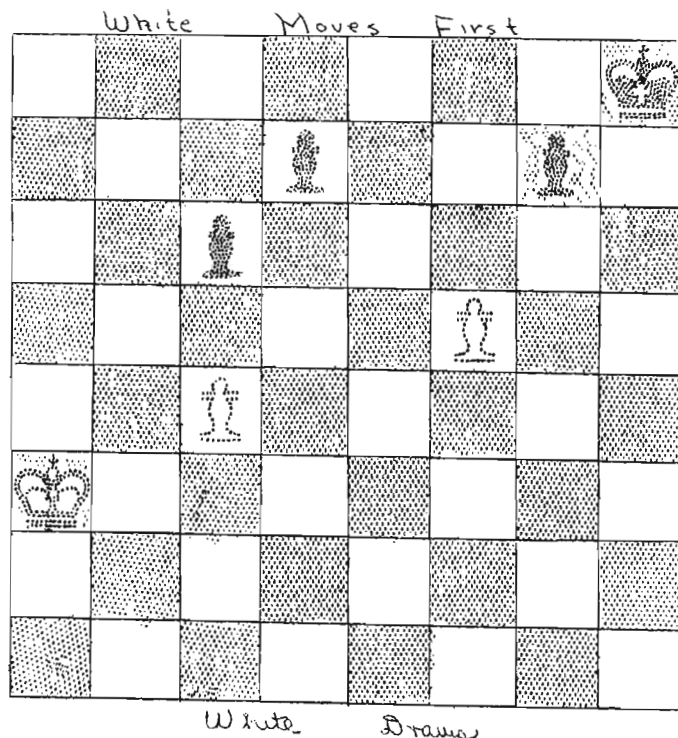

with eight games yet to go.

What constitutes a win?

You can set your own standard. I chose better than 50 percent.

The games of the masters lend themselves to this type of play, or the games of world tournaments, or the match games of two masters. It is important that there be no pecking.

This type of play can be recommended for those who, like myself, do not have much opportunity for over-the-board-play against strong opposition. This type of play has both improved my game and been enjoyable.

PROBLEM CORNER ~

This interesting position is a study... a composition by the famous Russian puzzle composer Troijkogo. The final stage is reached in about the same number of moves as the one given last month, and the results are almost identical. The manner in which the end result is achieved is, however, quite nice. Hope you are able to find the solution before it is published in the next issue of the NWCL.

The solution to the problem given in the June issue was sent in by Mr. Vandenburg, and State Champ Jim McCormick. He solved it while watching a giant squid swallow a submarine in Voyage To The Bottom Of The Sea, and simultaneously annotating his untimely loss to Macskasy from the last B C Open. The last I heard Mr. Joachim was still trying to Queen the White pawn. Now for the solution as sent in by Mr. Vandenburg. 1.K-N5 P-B4 2.K-B6 KxP (forced, and giving White the move he needs.) 3.K-Q5 K-B3 (3...P-B5 4.K-K4) 4.K-Q4 K-N4 (the 6 move solution goes 4...P-B5 5.K-K4 K-N4 6 K-B3 K-B4 stalemate) 5.KxP P-B5 6.K-K2 & White has the better game. But now Black plays 6...K-N5 6.P-Q4 P-B6ch 7.PxP (else P-B7 and the B K catches the QP) 7... K-R6 and Black wins. White erred with 6.P-Q4 & instead 6.K-B1 draws. Now he has a new field to conquer. Clark Harmon director.

IDAHO

Dick,

Thanks for the letter. I have talked to some of the boys about the combination idea, but I think it will be some time before anything might come about. Our next real big meeting will be in February. I brought up the idea last February and several objections were offered, and the players seemed to think that even if we combined they would like me, or someone, to put out an Idaho annual with the years tournament results in it so we would have our own state record. Of course, this could be done even if a combination with the N. C. L. went through.

I would like to list some of the obstacles to the combination so you will know our thinking and can form your opinions.

1) Price: This is the leading obstacle. $3 against $1 is a big jump, even though the quality difference is apparent.

2) At an increased price, all our players would probably not receive the N.C.L. because the clubs couldn't round up enough money to subscribe for all their members. We do this with the Bulletin. A 100% club, which all our clubs are, gets memberships for its members at a reduced rate of 75 ¢ (3/4 of the regular price) each, and all the members are on the list. We feel this is important because if we didn't work this 100% deal, at least half of the members would never subscribe on their own and they would possibly lose interest because they didn't receive the regular chess news. This is important since Idaho players are all too few to start with!

These two are the main problems.

3) There is still some talk about going back to the Wash. Chess Letter name and we wonder if the N.C.L., as such, is really here to stay. A truly Northwest paper would be our goal.

4) I was concerned about the coverage in the June issue of the Letter with regard to Idaho chess news. It appeared on the last page a little chopped up and some other Idaho news never was printed.

Dick Vandenburg
USCF Regional Vice Prexy

Your editor is printing this letter as it is, with a small amount of editing, as it is of great interest to the chess players in the Northwest and Idaho in particular.

The letter through the first three items will be of interest to the officers of the W.C.F. and the staff of the N.C.L. The note 4) is of interest mainly to the editor of the N.C.L. as it is his responsibility to see that the news in the N.W. area is given complete and good coverage. This was not done in the May issue and it is entirely my own fault, and I beg for some understanding as soon as my reasons are given.

1) I never received an Idaho bulletin so was unable to give the coverage that it truly deserved. This is my responsibility as I should have subscribed upon becoming editor. This will be rectified.

2) The news that was received I obtained through the good graces of the previous editor Dan Wade.

3) The reason for the unfortunate mess on the back two pages of the May issue of the Letter is because I had received the news from Mr. Vandenburg on the Idaho C., after that of Mr. Wade on the Idaho Championship, roughly the day or so before the issue was to be put in the mail, and instead of waiting for the next issue to give it proper coverage I tried to give it immediate coverage and hurriedly typed up a stencil. Then I learned Mr. Merk was going to be delayed in his return from the hospital and I would need something for the back pages. I took the bus to Mr. Weaver's place to run off the last stencil or so only to find that Mr. Merk had heading already printed on the back pages and now I would have to have something cut in order to make the news fit the page, this is the explanation and I hope it is a reasonable excuse for my first issue, but I assure you that with the new deadlines this situation will not be happening for some time. Thank you again for your constructive criticism and we hope that some arrangement agreeable to both sides will be reached soon. Ed.

Mr. Vandenburg goes on to state that he will kick the matter around with the Idaho players in the hopes of coming to some agreement acceptable to them. We appreciate his cordial and prompt reply,

Send your entries to the Postal Director with the entry fee of 50¢ per section of four players. If a new player in our tournaments, advise which Division you wish to play in. New players start in "A" with a rating of 1600, in "B" with 1300, and in "C" with 1000. You can enter as many sections as you desire. See back cover for further details.

EDITOR'S NOTE: After a second operation, Mr. Merk is recovering well, is in good spirits, and expects to be home from the hospital by the time this issue reaches you. Corrections have been made for errors called to Mr. Weaver's attention. The report on Scripps vs. H. Raymond in 64A7B seems to have been reversed. The minimum of 10 points has been credited Seiter, Dart, and Morris for their wins, and the losers debited. Golphenee is reported as withdrawn from 64B6A & B., so Reh and Carroll each receive 20 points, and Donnelly 10.
